From Your Pastor...

It's interesting to see people's response when they find out you're preaching from Leviticus or Deuteronomy...usually a groan, or you can see the thought process beginning about where they can go that weekend away from church! Interestingly enough, I can share their sentiment because most discussions about Levitical law can get a little "bogged down." But this Sunday we are going against the trend and studying a passage from Leviticus that, interestingly enough, sets the stage for our spring sermon series "Love at Last Sight" which will begin March 13th. As Mary mentions on the next page, there will be small group studies associated with this series, and the format will follow a similar pattern as the "One Month to Live" series we experienced last fall.

The focus of "Love at Last Sight" is relationships, and I am very excited about the potential this series has to help us strengthen the nature of our own relationships within the church and also explore possibilities for creating a ripple effect into the community! You have probably already heard me say this, but ultimately relationships are all that we take from this world: relationship with God; and relationships with other people. So anything that we are investing time, talents, and treasure in, other than relationships, is an investment in what is temporary, rather than eternal! Please join me in praying for our church as we continue to grow into the people (and the church) that God would have us to be!

We still have a few spaces in the small-group study series entitled "Foundations." Call soon because it begins Wednesday, February 23rd. See You Sunday!

Blessings and Peace,
Ramon
